

Supplementary Table 1: The original research of the samples used in this study

Original research	Current study population	n=10, 801
WHICAP	Population-based study of Medicare recipients aged ≥ 65 years in northern Manhattan	2983	27.6%
Genetics of neurological disorders, OCD, ALS, Epilepsy, memory, schizophrenia	Self-reported healthy family members of patients with epilepsy, ataxia, neuromuscular disorders, brain malformations, neurodevelopmental disorders, OCD, schizophrenia, ALS, early-onset Parkinson disease, and other neurological disorder	2893	26.8%
Diagnostic sequencing study of undiagnosed genetic disorders	Self-reported healthy family members of patients with undiagnosed disorders from general genetic clinic	1564	14.5%
27 additional studies	Self-reported healthy family members or control participants to a variety of genetic studies	325	3.0%
Genetic study of chronic liver diseases	Self-reported healthy family members to chronic liver disease genetic study	94	0.9%
Genetics study of kidney and Genitourinary disorders	Patients with chronic kidney diseases or genitourinary disorders	2187	20.2%
Genetic study of chronic liver diseases	Patients with chronic liver diseases	758	7%

WHICAP: Washington Heights-Inwood Columbia Aging project; ALS: amyotrophic lateral sclerosis; OCD: obsessive compulsive disorder.