Supplementary Table S1

Study, year of	Objective of the study	Stages/phases of	Methods used for capturing publication,		the development	user perspectives by stages of country of		of the medical	the medical device lifecycle origin		device
Hufford,	To examine differences between the	Deployment	Counseling sessions were Glueckauf,	perceptions of adolescents with		conducted // After the Webb <sup>17</sup> , 1999,	epilepsy and their parents in regard to		assessment interview, each
US	comfort, distraction, and therapeutic		family member separately alliance across 3 different modalities:		completed the Issue Severity
	(a) home-based video-system		Scale (ISS), Issue Frequency counseling, (b) home-based		Scale (IFS), and Priority for speakerphone counseling, and (c)		Intervention Form of videotaped, office-based counseling.		Glueckauf's Family and Disability Assessment System // clients completed the Audiovisual Equipment Rating Scale and the Audiovisual Equipment User Survey and a modified version of the Bond subscale of the Working Alliance Inventory for use in family counseling. They also completed the IPS, ISS, and Issue Change Scale (ICS) after the sixth session.
Zamponi,	To evaluate the safety and efficacy of	Deployment	Quality of life was assessed Rychlicki,	vagus nerve stimulation (VNS) in very		using the Vineland Adaptive Corpaci <sup>18</sup> ,	young children suffering from		Behavior Scale (VABS) and 2008, Italy	catastrophic epilepsy and status		by an analogical scale of epilepticus.		parental satisfaction.

Table 3 – Stages of MDD, an overview of the findings from the selected research studies

DiIorio,	To evaluate WebEase, an	Concept	Eligible and interested Escoffery,	Internetbased,		individuals were scheduled to McCarty <sup>19</sup> ,	theory-driven, self-management		attend one of three orientation 2009, US	program		sessions. At the beginning of for adults with epilepsy.		the session, the participants completed an online pre-test about medication taking, stress and sleep. Following the survey, study staff presented an introduction to the WebEase Internet site. The participants were able to ask questions and test different components of the program using their own computer during orientation.
Schulze-	To report on a two-center survey of	Concept	41 outpatients were asked to Bonhage, Sales,	patients' views on the practical		complete a survey designed to Wagner <sup>20</sup> ,	implementation of seizure prediction		assess their views on the role 2010, Germany,	devices		of unpredictability of seizures,
Portugal			seizure prediction, requirements for the performance of prediction algorithms, and practical aspects of implementation Koo, Yang,	To characterize epilepsy patients who	Deployment	aspects of implementation Separate surveys were Koo, Yang, Seok <sup>21</sup> , 2012,	To characterize epilepsy patients who use 'Epilia' as a main source of	Deployment Deployment	Separate surveys were Seok <sup>21</sup> , 2012,	use 'Epilia' as a main source of	Deployment	Separate surveys were administered to the online and
Seok <sup>21</sup> , 2012,	use 'Epilia' as a main source of information compared to those who do	Deployment	Separate surveys were administered to the online and offline groups to investigate
Seok <sup>21</sup> , 2012,	use 'Epilia' as a main source of information compared to those who do not use 'Epilia,' but instead rely on	Deployment	Separate surveys were administered to the online and offline groups to investigate their socio-demographic,
Seok <sup>21</sup> , 2012,	use 'Epilia' as a main source of information compared to those who do not use 'Epilia,' but instead rely on healthcare providers for epilepsy-	Deployment	Separate surveys were administered to the online and offline groups to investigate their socio-demographic, epilepsy-related, and

	attitude toward epilepsy was also		attitude alterations after investigated.		beginning to use 'Epilia'.
Vonhofen,	To discuss the implementation of an	Testing & Trials	The postimplementation Evangelista,	automated injection system for isotope		satisfaction survey was sent to Lordeon <sup>22</sup> ,	administration and its impact on		a cohort of 15 staff nurses
2012, US	staffing, safety, and nursing satisfaction.
Thygesen,	To evaluate the effect of VNS on	Deployment	The study was an investigator-
Sabers <sup>23</sup> , 2013,	seizure		initiated retrospective survey
Denmark	frequency and to investigate patient		of patients operated with VNS satisfaction of and quality of life		implantation during a ten-year effects of VNS treatment.		period.
Brunnhuber,	To describe the development and	Testing & Trials	We used surveys to survey the Amin, Nguyen	implementation of video EEG		principal stakeholders.
<sup>24</sup> , 2014, UK	telemetry (VT) in the patient's home		consultants and technicians), to (home video telemetry, HVT) in a		explore how HVT was single centre.		perceived.
Askamp, van	We surveyed Dutch neurologists and	Deployment	Members of the Dutch Putten <sup>25</sup> , 2014,	patients and evaluated a novel mobile		Neurological Society were The	EEG device (Mobita, TMSi).		invited to participate in our Netherlands			online survey about the use of EEG in (suspected) epilepsy patients.
Hoppe,	To explore attitudes and preferences	Concept	30-minute semi-structured Feldmann,	towards future devices for seizure		interview on automated seizure
Blachut <sup>26</sup> ,	detection in adult patients with		registration 2015, Germany	therapy-refractory epilepsies.
van Andel,	To describe stakeholders and their	Testing & Trials	Consortium Meetings, Leijten, van	moral values that are relevant to the		telephone conferences, email
Delden <sup>27</sup> ,	development and use of the seizure		communications, survey 2015, Denmark	detector and present four design choices and the corresponding risks 1 and benefits in terms of the identified values.

Van de Vel,	To compare user experiences with	Deployment	2 Validated surveys: one for Smets, Wouters	systems for seizure detection, their		patients and caregivers and <sup>28</sup> , 2016,	opinions on usefulness and purpose of		another for medical doctors Netherlands	seizure detection, and their requirements for such a device.
Newman,	To develop and implement an eHealth	Design, Test &	Usability testing: user
Shankar, Hanna	solution to support education and self-	Trials	journeys, user observations, <sup>29</sup> , 2016, UK	management of risks, in epilepsy.	Thuis	feedback, outcomes, app
, 2010, UK	management of fisks, in epitepsy.
			content evaluation
Patel, Moss,	To inquire on detection device	Concept	A survey instrument
Rust <sup>30</sup> , 2016,	features that are important to patients
US	and their caregivers.
Sauro, Holroyd-	To develop a web-based, evidence-	Deployment	Usability testing, focus groups,
Leduc, Wiebe	informed clinical decision tool to help		semi-structured interviews
<sup>31</sup> , 2016,	physicians determine which patients
Canada	are appropriate for an epilepsy surgery evaluation.
Tovar Quiroga,	To assess persons with epilepsy	Concept	Survey
Britton, Wirrell	(PWE) and caregivers' perspectives
<sup>32</sup> , 2016, US	regarding the features and priorities that should be considered in the design of seizure detection devices Modi, Schmidt,	to develop an individually tailored	Design	The unique needs of Smith <sup>33</sup> , 2017,	intervention, called Epilepsy Journey,		adolescents with epilepsy and
US	to improve aspects of executive		their families were assessed functioning through an iterative,		based on focus groups. In the patient-centered process including		second phase, the web-based focus groups and usability testing.		Epilepsy Journey problem-solving intervention was designed, developed, and evaluated. Evaluation took the form of multi-modal usability testing

Ali, Elsayed,	In a novel approach, we used social	Deployment	A survey consisting of 10
Kaur <sup>34</sup> , 2017,	media to contact patients with DS to		questions was posted to a
US	gather data on post-surgical seizure		social media webpage for a DS reduction and overall satisfaction with		support group moderated by
	VNS		the Dravet Syndrome Foundation. The results were analyzed, and percentages reported using the integrated SurveyMonkey analytical software.
Halford,	To evaluate the performance and	Testing and Trials	A device usability survey was Sperling, Nair	tolerability in the epilepsy monitoring		given to subjects.
<sup>35</sup> , 2017, US	unit (EMU) of an investigational wearable surface electromyographic (sEMG) monitoring system for the detection of generalized tonic-clonic seizures (GTCSs).
Ozanne,	To explore perceptions regarding the	Deployment	Focus Groups and semi-Johansson,	use of wearable technology in disease		structured interviews Hallgren	monitoring and management as Graneheim 36	reported by individuals with epilepsy.
2018, Sweden
Arends, Thijs,	To develop and prospectively evaluate	Testing & Trials	Survey (caregiver) and Gutter <sup>37</sup> , 2018,	a method of epileptic seizure detection		usability testing (PWE)
Netherlands	combining heart rate and movement.
Afra, Bruggers,	To evaluate the patient's interest in	Concept	Survey
Sweney <sup>38</sup> ,	using a mobile app for seizure control 2018, US	and self-care.
-		1	1

Meritam,	To assess the performance,	Deployment	Post-Study System Usability
Ryvlin,	applicability, and usability of the	1 2	Survey (PSSUQ), telephone
Beniczky <sup>39</sup> ,	device in home environment of		interviews
-			interviews
2018, Denmark	patients
Janse,	To promote user-centered design of	Concept	Best-worst scaling (BWS)
Dumanis,	future seizure forecasting devices by		survey method
Huwig <sup>40</sup> , 2019,	quantifying patient and caregiver
US	preferences for the potential benefits and risks of seizure forecasting devices.
Chiang, Moss,	To evaluate the association between	Deployment	cross-sectional survey Patel 41, 2020,	seizure detection device usage and US	HR-QOL in an enriched population of SeizureTracker.com electronic seizure diary users.
Bruno, Biondi,	To assess the self-mastery	Deployment	Usability tests of the wearable
Thorpe <sup>42</sup> ,	performance and associated factors in		device + Wearable technology
2020, UK	a group of PWE admitted to an		Self-management Score (WSS) epilepsy monitoring unit who agreed to wear a wrist-worn device aimed at seizure detection
Bruno, Biondi,	To identify the device placement-	Deployment	Usability tests of the wearable
Bottcher <sup>43</sup> ,	related issues experienced by a cohort		device + Participants' 2020, UK,	of people with epilepsy (PWE) to		experience was assessed using Germany	investigate to what extent available		the Technology Acceptance devices are nonintrusive, comfortable,		Model Fast Form (TAM-FF) and stable on the body.		plus two additional questions on comfort. A thematic analysis was also performed on the free text of the survey.
Khan,	To assess patient perceptions of	Concept	Online survey Peechatka, Dias	completing ePROs, expectations of
<sup>44</sup> , 2020, US	ePRO devices for PCOR and on-site

development of successful ePRO deployment in seizure-related disorders.DeploymentSemi-structured qualitative interview 8 PWEs.Beck, Simony.To provide insights into patientDeploymentSemi-structured qualitative interview 8 PWEs.2020, Denmarkmonitoring of epilepsyDeploymentIndividual semi-structured interviews 8 PWEs.2020, Denmarkmonitoring of epilepsyDeploymentIndividual semi-structured interviews (Clinicians) and focus groups (PWE and caregivers).300dwin,youth with epilepsy (TAYWE), their (mHealth) system to support the self- management needs of TAYWE.Focus Groups (PWE and caregivers).Simblett,To conduct a consultation exercise on management needs of TAYWE.ConceptFocus GroupsSimblett,To conduct a consultation exercise on with chronic health conditions.ConceptFocus GroupsWith chronic health conditions.Measurement Technologies studies, drawing on the experiences of people with chronic health conditions.DeploymentSemi structured interviews,Simblett,Assess the first-hand experiences of ineu. Understand how acceptable and easy they were to use, and whether it is reasonable to expect that people will use them.DeploymentScenario-based usability test,Yoo, Lim, BaekTo develop a mobile epilepsyDesignScenario-based usability test,"2020, Okuthmanagement application covering kreacScenario-based usability test,"3, 2020, Subtimanagement neephensive in asseris fuero.Scenario-based usability test,"4, 2020, UKTo develop a mobile		clinical visit in order to guide the deployment in seizure-related disorders.DeploymentSemi-structured qualitative interview 8 PWEs.Beck, Simony, Zibrandtsen <sup>44</sup> , readiness to use wearables for homeDeploymentSemi-structured qualitative interview 8 PWEs.2020, Denmark monitoring of epilepsyDeploymentIndividual semi-structured interviews (Clinicians) and focus groups (PWE and caregivers, and clinicians to inform USDeploymentIndividual semi-structured interviews (Clinicians) and focus groups (PWE and caregivers)USthe design of a mobile health (mHealth) system to support the self- management needs of TAYWE.ConceptFocus GroupsSimblett, UKTo conduct a consultation exercise on drawing on the experiences of people with chronic health conditions.ConceptFocus GroupsSimblett, UKAssess the first-hand experiences of people with epilepsy using wearable dives, continuously over a period of time. Understand how acceptable and easy they were to use, and whether it is reasonable to expect that people will use them.DesignScenario-based usability test,Yoo, Lim, Baek *1, 2020, South Management application covering *2, 2020, South (management application covering *2, 2020, South *2, 2020, South *2, 2020, South *2, 2020, South *2, 2020, SouthDesignScenario-based usability test,Yoo, Lim, Baek *2, 2020, South (Korea user friendly way.DesignAt the end of the recording period, patients were providedYoo, Lim, Baek *3, 2020, South (KoreaThe present study addresses both of user friendly way.DeploymentAt the end of the recording period, patient		_ disorders.DeploymentSemi-structured qualitative interview 8 PWEs.2020, Denmarkmonitoring of epilepsyDeploymentIndividual semi-structured interview 8 PWEs.2020, DenmarkGain the perspectives of transition-age (order 4, 2020), caregivers, and clinicians to inform the design of a mobile health (mHealth) system to support the self- management needs of TAYWE.DeploymentIndividual semi-structured interviews (Clinicians) and focus groups (PWE and caregivers)Simblett,To conduct a consultation exercise on (mHealth) system to support the self- management periorities for RemoteConceptFocus GroupsWatcham, the clinical end point or outcome (urtis 47, 2020), with chronic health conditions.ConceptFocus GroupsSimblett,Assess the first-hand experiences of people with epilepsy using wearable devices, continuously over a period of time. Understand how acceptable and easy they were to use, and whether it is reasonable to expect that people will use them.DesignScenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview. auser-friendly way.Yoo, Lim, Baek (Nrea (rucial factors comprehensively in a user-friendly way.DesignScenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview. auser-friendly way.Nasseri, Nurse, (Bassetter <sup>40</sup> ,The present study addresses both of management application covering these problems of measuring deviceDeploymentAt the end of the recording period, patients were provided		- Beck, Simony, I To provide insights into patientDeploymentSemi-structured qualitative interview 8 PWEs.2020, Denmarkmonitoring of epilepsyDeploymentIndividual semi-structured interview 8 PWEs.2020, DenmarkGain the perspectives of transition-age (Gain the perspectives of transition-age)DeploymentIndividual semi-structured interviews (Clinicians) and focus groups (PWE and caregivers)0jeda *0, 2020, (aregivers, and clinicians to inform (mHealth) system to support the self- management needs of TAYWE.ConceptFocus GroupsSimblett, (Lurtis *7, 2020, with chronic health conditions.To conduct a consultation exercise on (arwing on the experiences of people with chronic health conditions.ConceptFocus GroupsSimblett, (Bindhi, BrunoAssess the first-hand experiences of time. Understand how acceptable and easy they were to use, and whether it is reasonable to expect that people will use them.DeploymentSemi structured interviews, Usability Test.Yoo, Lim, Baek *7, 2020, South management application covering Korea user-friendly way.DesignScenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview. auser-friendly way.Nasseri, Nurse, Glasstetter *0, (Basseri, Surve, these problems of measuring deviceDeploymentAt the end of the recording period, patients were provided Zibrandtsen <sup>45</sup> ,       readiness to use wearables for home       interview 8 PWEs.         2020, Denmark       monitoring of epilepsy       Deployment       Individual semi-structured         Goodwin,       youth with epilepsy (TAYWE), their       Deployment       Individual semi-structured         Ojeda <sup>46</sup> , 2020,       caregivers, and clinicians to inform       Deployment       Individual semi-structured         US       the design of a mobile health (mHealth) system to support the self- management needs of TAYWE.       Concept       Focus Groups         Simblett,       To conduct a consultation exercise on Matcham,       Concept       Focus Groups         UK       Measurement Technologies studies, drawing on the experiences of people with chronic health conditions.       Deployment       Semi structured interviews,         Simblett,       Assess the first-hand experiences of people with epilepsy using wearable       Deployment       Semi structured interviews,         Wine, Understand how acceptable and easy they were to use, and whether it is reasonable to expect that people will use them.       Design       Scenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview.         Yoo, Lim, Baek       To develop a mobile epilepsy       Design       Scenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview.         "9, 2020, South       management application covering Korea       The present study addresses both of user-friendly way. <t< td=""><td></td><td></td><td></td><td></td></t<>
2020, Denmarkmonitoring of epilepsyDeploymentIndividual semi-structuredThompson, Godwin, youth with epilepsy (TAYWE), their opida <sup>46</sup> , 2020, (aregivers, and clinicians to inform the design of a mobile health (mHealth) system to support the self- management needs of TAYWE.DeploymentIndividual semi-structured interviews (Clinicians) and focus groups (PWE and caregivers)Simblett, Matcham, the clinical end point or outcome (urks <sup>47</sup> , 2020, WK bindi, BrunoConceptFocus GroupsSimblett, bindi, Bruno is people with epilepsy using wearable (sig reasonable to expect that people will use them.DeploymentSemi structured interviews, Usability Test.Simblett, ag, 2020, UK (arawing on the experiences of people with epilepsy using wearable (sig reasonable to expect that people will use them.DeploymentSemi structured interviews, Usability Test.Yoo, Lim, Baek (Arawing and the problems of management application covering (sig reasonable to expect that people will use -friendly way.DesignScenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview.Yoo, Lim, Baek (Arawing the problems of measuring deviceDeploymentAt the end of the recording period, patients were provided	Beck, Simony,	To provide insights into patient	Deployment	Semi-structured qualitative
Thompson, Gain the perspectives of transition-age Goodwin, youth with epilepsy (TAYWE), their ofed 46, 2020, caregivers, and clinicians to inform the design of a mobile health (mHealth) system to support the self- management needs of TAYWE.DeploymentIndividual semi-structured interviews (Clinicians) and focus groups (PWE and caregivers.)Simblett, Matcham, UKTo conduct a consultation exercise on measurement priorities for Remote with chronic health conditions.ConceptFocus GroupsSimblett, Matcham, UKTo conduct a consultation exercise on drawing on the experiences of people with chronic health conditions.ConceptSemi structured interviews, USSimblett, Masseri, Nruse, a, 2020, UKAssess the first-hand experiences of time. Understand how acceptable and easy they were to use, and whether it is reasonable to expect that people will use them.DeploymentSemi structured interviews, Usability Test.Yoo, Lim, Baek NoreaTo develop a mobile epilepsy user friendly way.DesignScenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview.Nasseri, Nurse, URThe present study addresses both of user-friendly way.DeploymentAt the end of the recording period, patients were provided	Zibrandtsen <sup>45</sup> ,	readiness to use wearables for home		interview 8 PWEs.
Goodwin, Ojeda 46, 2020, Ida 46, 2020, USyouth with epilepsy (TAYWE), their caregivers, and clinicians to inform the design of a mobile health (mHealth) system to support the self- management needs of TAYWE.interviews (Clinicians) and focus groups (PWE and caregivers)Simblett,To conduct a consultation exercise on the clinical end point or outcome measurement priorities for Remote UKConceptFocus GroupsMatcham, UKthe clinical end point or outcome measurement priorities for Remote ufk chronic health conditions.DeploymentSemi structured interviews,Simblett, UKAssess the first-hand experiences of people with chronic health conditions.DeploymentSemi structured interviews,Simblett, a, 2020, UKAssess the first-hand experiences of time. Understand how acceptable and easy they were to use, and whether it is reasonable to expect that people will use them.DesignScenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview.Yoo, Lim, Back 47, 2020, South management application covering torea user-friendly way.DesignAt the end of the recording period, patients were provided	2020, Denmark	monitoring of epilepsy
Ojeda 46, 2020, UScaregivers, and clinicians to inform the design of a mobile health (mHealth) system to support the self- management needs of TAYWE.focus groups (PWE and caregivers)Simblett,To conduct a consultation exercise on the clinical end point or outcome measurement priorities for Remote UKConceptFocus GroupsMatcham, UKTo conduct a consultation exercise on drawing on the experiences of people with chronic health conditions.ConceptFocus GroupsSimblett,Assess the first-hand experiences of people with epilepsy using wearable devices, continuously over a period of time. Understand how acceptable and easy they were to use, and whether it is reasonable to expect that people will use them.DesignScenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview.Yoo, Lim, Baek (Norea user-friendly way.To develop a mobile epilepsy user-friendly way.DesignAt the end of the recording period, patients were provided	Thompson,	Gain the perspectives of transition-age	Deployment	Individual semi-structured USthe design of a mobile health (mHealth) system to support the self- management needs of TAYWE.caregivers)Simblett,To conduct a consultation exercise on measurement priorities for Remote UKConceptFocus GroupsMatcham, UKthe clinical end point or outcome measurement priorities for Remote uik chronic health conditions.ConceptFocus GroupsSimblett, UKMeasurement Technologies studies, drawing on the experiences of people with chronic health conditions.DeploymentSemi structured interviews,Simblett, Biondi, Brunopeople with epilepsy using wearable is reasonable to expect that people will use them.DeploymentSemi structured interviews,Yoo, Lim, Baek sor, 2020, South Masseri, Nurse,To develop a mobile epilepsy a user-friendly way.DesignScenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview.Nasseri, Nurse, Glassetter <sup>50</sup> ,The present study addresses both of these problems of measuring deviceDeploymentAt the end of the recording period, patients were provided	Goodwin,	youth with epilepsy (TAYWE), their		interviews (Clinicians) and Image of the self- management needs of TAYWE.ConceptFocus GroupsSimblett,To conduct a consultation exercise on Matcham, the clinical end point or outcomeConceptFocus GroupsMatcham,the clinical end point or outcomeConceptFocus GroupsUKMeasurement priorities for Remote with chronic health conditions.DeploymentSemi structured interviews,Simblett,Assess the first-hand experiences of people with epilepsy using wearable time. Understand how acceptable and easy they were to use, and whether it is reasonable to expect that people will use them.DesignScenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview.Yoo, Lim, BaekTo develop a mobile epilepsy user-friendly way.DesignAt the end of the recording period, patients were providedNasseri, Nurse,The present study addresses both of Glasstetter <sup>50</sup> ,DeploymentAt the end of the recording period, patients were provided	Ojeda <sup>46</sup> , 2020,	caregivers, and clinicians to inform		focus groups (PWE and Management needs of TAYWE.ConceptFocus GroupsSimblett,To conduct a consultation exercise on the clinical end point or outcome measurement priorities for Remote UKConceptFocus GroupsMatcham, Curtis 47, 2020, WKmeasurement priorities for Remote Measurement Technologies studies, drawing on the experiences of people with chronic health conditions.DeploymentSemi structured interviews, Usability Test.Simblett, Biondi, Bruno 48, 2020, UKAssess the first-hand experiences of time. Understand how acceptable and easy they were to use, and whether it is reasonable to expect that people will use them.DeploymentSemi structured interviews, Usability Test.Yoo, Lim, Baek 49, 2020, South KoreaTo develop a mobile epilepsy using way.DesignScenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview. user-friendly way.Nasseri, Nurse, Glasstetter 50, these problems of measuring deviceDeploymentAt the end of the recording period, patients were provided	US	the design of a mobile health		caregivers)
Simblett,To conduct a consultation exercise on Matcham,ConceptFocus GroupsMatcham,the clinical end point or outcome measurement priorities for RemoteConceptFocus GroupsUKMeasurement Technologies studies, drawing on the experiences of people with chronic health conditions.DeploymentSemi structured interviews,Simblett,Assess the first-hand experiences of people with epilepsy using wearable devices, continuously over a period of time. Understand how acceptable and easy they were to use, and whether it is reasonable to expect that people will use them.DesignScenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview.Yoo, Lim, BaekTo develop a mobile epilepsy user-friendly way.DesignScenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview.Nasseri, Nurse,The present study addresses both of Glasstetter <sup>50</sup> ,DeploymentAt the end of the recording period, patients were provided		(mHealth) system to support the self-
Matcham, Curtis <sup>47</sup> , 2020, UKthe clinical end point or outcome measurement priorities for RemoteImage: Curtis <sup>47</sup> , 2020, Measurement Technologies studies, drawing on the experiences of people with chronic health conditions.DeploymentSemi structured interviews, Usability Test.Simblett,Assess the first-hand experiences of people with epilepsy using wearable devices, continuously over a period of time. Understand how acceptable and easy they were to use, and whether it is reasonable to expect that people will use them.DesignScenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview.Yoo, Lim, Back 4°, 2020, South RoreaTo develop a mobile epilepsy user-friendly way.DesignScenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview.Matcham, asseri, Nurse, Glasstetter <sup>50</sup> ,The present study addresses both of these problems of measuring deviceDeploymentAt the end of the recording period, patients were provided		management needs of TAYWE.
Curtis 47, 2020, UKmeasurement priorities for Remote Measurement Technologies studies, drawing on the experiences of people with chronic health conditions.DeploymentSemi structured interviews,Simblett,Assess the first-hand experiences of people with epilepsy using wearable devices, continuously over a period of time. Understand how acceptable and easy they were to use, and whether it is reasonable to expect that people will use them.DesignScenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview.Yoo, Lim, Baek 4°, 2020, South (Screa)To develop a mobile epilepsy user-friendly way.DesignScenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview.Nasseri, Nurse, Glasstetter <sup>50</sup> ,The present study addresses both of these problems of measuring deviceDeploymentAt the end of the recording period, patients were provided	Simblett,	To conduct a consultation exercise on	Concept	Focus Groups UKMeasurement Technologies studies, drawing on the experiences of people with chronic health conditions.DeploymentSemi structured interviews,Simblett,Assess the first-hand experiences of people with epilepsy using wearable devices, continuously over a period of time. Understand how acceptable and easy they were to use, and whether it is reasonable to expect that people will use them.DesignScenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview.Yoo, Lim, BaekTo develop a mobile epilepsy user-friendly way.DesignScenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview.Masseri, Nurse, Glasstetter <sup>50</sup> ,The present study addresses both of these problems of measuring deviceDeploymentAt the end of the recording period, patients were provided	Matcham,	the clinical end point or outcome drawing on the experiences of people with chronic health conditions.DeploymentSemi structured interviews,Simblett,Assess the first-hand experiences of people with epilepsy using wearable devices, continuously over a period of time. Understand how acceptable and easy they were to use, and whether it is reasonable to expect that people will use them.DepioymentSemi structured interviews, Usability Test.Yoo, Lim, BaekTo develop a mobile epilepsy management application covering toreaDesignScenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview.49, 2020, South user-friendly way.The present study addresses both of these problems of measuring deviceDeploymentAt the end of the recording period, patients were provided	Curtis <sup>47</sup> , 2020,	measurement priorities for Remote with chronic health conditions.DeploymentSemi structured interviews,Simblett,Assess the first-hand experiences of people with epilepsy using wearable devices, continuously over a period of time. Understand how acceptable and easy they were to use, and whether it is reasonable to expect that people will use them.DesignScenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview.Yoo, Lim, Baek 4º, 2020, South crucial factors comprehensively in a user-friendly way.DesignScenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview.Nasseri, Nurse, Glasstetter <sup>50</sup> ,The present study addresses both of these problems of measuring deviceDeploymentAt the end of the recording period, patients were provided	UK	Measurement Technologies studies, Simblett,Assess the first-hand experiences of people with epilepsy using wearableDeploymentSemi structured interviews, Usability Test.48, 2020, UKdevices, continuously over a period of time. Understand how acceptable and easy they were to use, and whether it is reasonable to expect that people will use them.Usability Test.Yoo, Lim, BaekTo develop a mobile epilepsy user-friendly way.DesignScenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview.49, 2020, South user-friendly way.The present study addresses both of Glasstetter <sup>50</sup> ,DeploymentAt the end of the recording period, patients were provided		drawing on the experiences of people
Biondi, Brunopeople with epilepsy using wearable devices, continuously over a period of time. Understand how acceptable and easy they were to use, and whether it is reasonable to expect that people will use them.Usability Test.Yoo, Lim, BaekTo develop a mobile epilepsy management application covering koreaDesignScenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview.49, 2020, South user-friendly way.Crucial factors comprehensively in a user-friendly way.DeploymentAt the end of the recording period, patients were provided		with chronic health conditions.
<ul> <li><sup>48</sup>, 2020, UK</li> <li><sup>48</sup>, 2020, UK</li> <li><sup>48</sup>, 2020, UK</li> <li><sup>48</sup>, 2020, UK</li> <li><sup>49</sup>, 2020, South</li> <li><sup>41</sup>, <sup>42</sup>, <sup>42</sup>, <sup>42</sup>, <sup>43</sup>, <sup>44</sup>, <sup></sup></li></ul>	Simblett,	Assess the first-hand experiences of	Deployment	Semi structured interviews,
time. Understand how acceptable and easy they were to use, and whether it is reasonable to expect that people will use them.Leasy they were to use, and whether it is reasonable to expect that people will use them.Leasy they were to use, and whether it is reasonable to expect that people will use them.Leasy they were to use, and whether it is reasonable to expect that people will use them.Leasy they were to use, and whether it is reasonable to expect that people will use them.Leasy they were to use, and whether it is reasonable to expect that people will use them.DesignScenario-based usability test, satisfaction survey, and interview.49, 2020, South Koreamanagement application covering user-friendly way.DesignScenario-based usability test, interview.Nasseri, Nurse, Glasstetter <sup>50</sup> ,The present study addresses both of these problems of measuring deviceDeploymentAt the end of the recording period, patients were provided	Biondi, Bruno	people with epilepsy using wearable		Usability Test.
easy they were to use, and whether it is reasonable to expect that people will use them.Image: Second	<sup>48</sup> , 2020, UK	devices, continuously over a period of is reasonable to expect that people will use them.Image: Second control of the se		time. Understand how acceptable and
Yoo, Lim, BaekTo develop a mobile epilepsyDesignScenario-based usability test,49, 2020, Southmanagement application coveringsatisfaction survey, andKoreacrucial factors comprehensively in a user-friendly way.interview.Nasseri, Nurse,The present study addresses both of Glasstetter 50,DeploymentAt the end of the recording period, patients were provided		easy they were to use, and whether it
Yoo, Lim, BaekTo develop a mobile epilepsyDesignScenario-based usability test,49, 2020, Southmanagement application coveringsatisfaction survey, andKoreacrucial factors comprehensively in a user-friendly way.interview.Nasseri, Nurse,The present study addresses both of Glasstetter 50,DeploymentAt the end of the recording period, patients were provided		is reasonable to expect that people will
<sup>49</sup> , 2020, South       management application covering       satisfaction survey, and         Korea       crucial factors comprehensively in a       interview.         user-friendly way.       nuser-friendly way.       At the end of the recording         Glasstetter <sup>50</sup> ,       these problems of measuring device       period, patients were provided		use them.
Korea       crucial factors comprehensively in a user-friendly way.       interview.         Nasseri, Nurse,       The present study addresses both of Glasstetter <sup>50</sup> ,       Deployment       At the end of the recording period, patients were provided	Yoo, Lim, Baek	To develop a mobile epilepsy	Design	Scenario-based usability test, user-friendly way.       user-friendly way.         Nasseri, Nurse,       The present study addresses both of       Deployment       At the end of the recording         Glasstetter <sup>50</sup> ,       these problems of measuring device       period, patients were provided	<sup>49</sup> , 2020, South	management application covering		satisfaction survey, and Nasseri, Nurse,       The present study addresses both of       Deployment       At the end of the recording         Glasstetter <sup>50</sup> ,       these problems of measuring device       period, patients were provided	Korea	crucial factors comprehensively in a		interview.
Glasstetter <sup>50</sup> , these problems of measuring device period, patients were provided		user-friendly way.
	Nasseri, Nurse,	The present study addresses both of	Deployment	At the end of the recording
2020, UK, US, signal quality and assessing the with a survey to assess their	Glasstetter <sup>50</sup> ,	these problems of measuring device		period, patients were provided 2020, UK, US,	signal quality and assessing the		with a survey to assess their

Germany,	preferences of people with epilepsy		preferences and comfort with Australia	while using wearable devices.		using wearable devices for seizure prediction.
Buchhalter,	Describe the development of the	Testing and Trials	Meetings (HP), Survey (HP, Scantlebury,	Pediatric Epilepsy Outcome-	C	CG)
D'Alfonso <sup>51</sup> ,	Informatics Project (PEOIP) at 2021, Canada	Alberta Children's Hospital (ACH)
Grzeskowiak,	To understand the use-cases that best	Concept	A seizure forecasting survey Dumanis <sup>52</sup> ,	suit the needs of epilepsy community		targeted to those living with 2021, US	as seizure forecast research advances.		epilepsy and their caregivers
	These results will provide researchers		was generated using Qualtrics with insight into user-acceptance of		(Provo, Utah) and distributed using a forecasting tool and		online incorporation into their daily life.
	Ultimately, this input from people living with epilepsy and caregivers will provide timely feedback on what the community needs are and ensure researchers and companies first and foremost consider these needs in seizure forecasting tools/product development.
Cote, Beaudet,	To evaluate the extent of utilization	Testing and Trials	Pilot parallel-group
Auger <sup>53</sup> , 2021,	and acceptability of a web-based		randomized controlled trial 75
Canada	intervention among PWE		PWE who had Internet access allocated on a 1:1 ratio into an experimental group that received the intervention (experimental group (EG), n = 37) and a control group invited to consult epilepsy-related websites (control group (CG), n = 38).

Bruno, Biondi,	To capture focal onset seizures with	Testing and Trials	Participants were asked to Richardson 54,	motor manifestations with a		wear a multimodal wearable 2021, UK	multimodal wearable device to		device (IMEC) aimed at identify the digital semiology and the		seizure detection while evolution pattern of ictal		admitted to an epilepsy manifestations.		monitoring unit. Seizures were labelled by a neurologist and start, and offset time were noted. The signals captured by the device during the seizure window were plotted and a visual inspection was performed for focal motor seizures with impaired awareness and for focal motor aware seizures
Herrera-Fortin,	To detail the preferences, needs and	Concept	Two online surveys were Bou Assi,	concerns regarding potential seizure		designed to survey PWE and Gagnon <sup>55</sup> ,	detectors, of PWE and their caregivers		their caregivers on seizure 2021, Canada	across Canada.		detection acceptability and to collect general clinical characteristics.
Olsen, Nielsen,	To explore the experiences of people	Deployment	Usability tests for 3 wearable Simony <sup>56</sup> ,	with epilepsy using wearables for		devices, and semi structured 2021, Denmark	home seizure monitoring.		open-ended individual interviews before and after home monitoring with wearable seizure monitoring equipment.
Willems, Baier,	Satisfaction with and reliability of in-	Deployment	Survey using a survey to assess
Bien <sup>57</sup> , 2021,	hospital video-EEG monitoring		the reliability, customer Germany	systems in epilepsy diagnosis - A		satisfaction, and potential for German multicenter experience.		general or specific improvements of Videoelectroencephalography monitoring systems

Monfort,	This exploratory study aims to identify	Concept	The 31-item Quality of Life in Poulet, Nahas	patient and caregiver groups,	r	Epilepsy (QOLIE-31) scale, <sup>58</sup> , 2021, France	according to acceptability factors.		adapted from the more
, 2021, 1 failee	according to acceptation of ractors.		comprehensive 89-item scale;
			the 10 items Modified Computer Self Efficacy Scale (MCSES). The perception of the occurrence of seizures was evaluated using a Likert scale that ranged from 0 (never) to 5 (once or several times a day, every day).
			A 21-item survey derived from the UTAUT 2 model was used to determine the connected patch acceptability.
Chiang, Moss,	Investigate patient and physician	Design	We surveyed 627 people living
Black 59, 2021,	perspectives on effective translation of		with epilepsy and caregivers,
US	algorithm outputs into data		and 28 epilepsy healthcare visualizations through health		providers. Respondents scored information technology.		each visualization in terms of international standardized software quality criteria for functionality, appropriateness, and usability.
Sabers,	To explore potential clinical benefits	Deployment	Service Design Survey on Aumuller-	of ta-VNS and to evaluate adaptation,		Medical Devices Used to Wagner,	compliance, as well as the usability of		determine if there were
Christensen <sup>60</sup> ,	the device from a service design		lifestyle and usability issues
2021, Denmark,	perspective.

Norway, the Netherlands,
Belgium
Siegel,	To develop clinical decision support	Testing and Trials	Usability testing recommended Johnson,	to reduce inappropriate prescription of	C	by the National Institute of Dawson <sup>61</sup> ,	carbohydrate-containing medications		Standards and Technology:
2021, US	in hospitalized children on ketogenic		formative and summative diet.		testing
von Wrede,	We developed an examination	Deployment	Survey on the evaluation of the Rings, Schach	schedule to probe for immediate	- ·F···)	device. Seven ordinal
<sup>62</sup> , 2021,	taVNS-induced modifications of		questions were asked Germany	large-scale epileptic brain networks		concerning handling,
-	and accompanying changes of		possibility to continue cognition and behaviour.		activities while using the device, feeling while using the device, comfort, suitability for long-term and repeated use.
Hadady,	Evaluate direct user experience with	Deployment	Structured online survey (175
Klivenyi, Fabo	wearable seizure detection devices in		caregivers and 67 persons with <sup>63</sup> , 2022,	the home environment.		epilepsy)
Hungary,
Denmark
Schmidt,	To describe the iterative design,	Design	Preparation included Glaser, Riedy	development, and evaluation of a		developing user personas and <sup>64</sup> , 2022, US	novel mHealth learning environment		conducting focus groups.
	for parents of children with epilepsy.		Phase 1 used empathy interviews, empathy mapping, and persona development methods. Usability and user experience methods were used, including SME reviews, cognitive walkthroughs, and usability testing. Survey

Lazaro,       To develop a mHealth application for       Concept, Design,       In the first phase, the needs         Alvaran, Yun       seizure management based on the       Test & Trials       exploratory interviews with all         Korea       approach.       Test & Trials       exploratory interviews with all         Korea       approach.       mail or messaging app. In         phase 2, to determine the       system requirements, use case         scenarios were employed       wherein narratives or         story base and their experiences. In       the second phase, to determine         the system requirements, use       case scenarios were employed         wherein narratives or       storyboards are created. As a         supplement, personas and       journey maps were also         created to represent target       users and their experiences. In         the second phase, to determine       the system requirements, use         the second phase, to determine       the system requirements, use         as are and their experiences. In       the second phase, to determine         the system requirements, use       case scenarios were employed.         In phase 3 a series of       protypes were created and         tested. Users were also       instructed to download and test         the SeeSure app. The proposed       apfs func				responses and usability InterpretationInterpretationInterpretationLazaro.To develop a mHealth application for seizure management based on the sizure management based at the Secsure app. In propose management based at the size management based on the sizure management based on the sizure management based at the size management based at the transmitter management base Lazaro,To develop a mHealth application forConcept, Design,In the first phase, the needsAlvaran, Yunseizure management based on theTest & Trialswere identified by conducting, 2022, Southhuman system integration (HSI)Exploratory interviews with allthe relevant stakeholders via e-Marcan, Yunapproach.in the first phase, the needsmail or messaging app. Inphase 2, to determine thesystem requirements, use casescenarios were employedwherein narratives orstoryboards are created. As asupplement, personas andjourney maps were alsocreated to represent targetusers and their experiences. Inthe second phase, to determinethe system requirements, usecase scenarios were employedusers and their experiences. Inthe second phase, to determinethe system requirements, usecase scenarios were employed.In phase 3 a series ofprototypes were created andtested. Users were alsoinstructed to download and testthe SecSure app. The proposedapr's function was evaluatedthrough a focused-groupinterview involving theconcerned stakeholders (1PWE, 2 primary caregivers, 1medical doctor)Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentPatients used a WD, the Sensor Alvaran, Yunseizure management based on theTest & Trialswere identified by conducting". 2022, Southhuman system integration (HSI)exploratory interviews with allKoreaapproach.the relevant stakeholders via e-mail or messaging app. Inphase 2, to determine thesystem requirements, use casescenarios were employedwherein narratives orstoryboards are created. As asupplement, personas andjourney maps were alsocreated to represent targetusers and their experiences. Inthe second phase, to determinethe system requirements, useas escinarios were employedthe system requirements, useusers and their experiences. Inthe second phase, to determinethe system requirements, usetasesinstructed to download and testthe SesSure app. The proposedapr's function was evaluatedthrough a focused-groupinterview involving theconcerned stakeholders (1PWE, 2 primary caregivers, 1medical doctor)Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentBarton Laboration Laborat
", 2022, South       human system integration (HSI)       exploratory interviews with all         Korea       approach.       mail or messaging app. In         phase 2, to determine the       system requirements, use case         scenarios were employed       wherein narratives or         storyboards are created. As a       supplement, personas and         journey maps were also       created to represent target         users and their experiences. In       the second phase, to determine         the system requirements, use       case scenarios were employed.         In phase 3 a series of       prototypes were created and         tested. Users were also       instructed to download and test         the SecSure app. The proposed       app's function was evaluated         through a focused-group       interview involving the         concerned stakeholders (1       PWE, 2 primary caregivers, 1         medical doctor)       medical doctor)	Lazaro,	To develop a mHealth application for	Concept, Design,	In the first phase, the needs
Koreaapproach.the relevant stakeholders via e- mail or messaging app. In phase 2, to determine the system requirements, use case scenarios were employed wherein narratives or storyboards are created. As a supplement, personas and journey maps were also created to represent target users and their experiences. In the second phase, to determine the system requirements, use case scenarios were employed. In phase 3 a series of prototypes were created and tested. Users were also instructed to download and test the SecSure app. The proposed app's function was evaluated through a focused-group interview involving the concerned stakeholders (1 PWE, 2 primary caregivers, 1 medical doctor)Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentPatients used a WD, the Sensor	Alvaran, Yun	seizure management based on the	Test & Trials	were identified by conducting
Macea,       To report the performance of an       Deployment       Patients used a WD, the Sensor         Macea,       To report the performance of an       Deployment       Patients used a WD, the Sensor         Macea,       To report the performance of an       Deployment       Patients used a WD, the Sensor	<sup>65</sup> , 2022, South	human system integration (HSI)		exploratory interviews with all
Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentPatients used a WD, the SensorPhase 2, to determine the system requirements, use case scenarios were employed wherein narratives or storyboards are created. As a supplement, personas and journey maps were also created to represent target users and their experiences. In the second phase, to determine the system requirements, use case scenarios were employed. In phase 3 a series of prototypes were created and tested. Users were also instructed to download and test the SeeSure app. The proposed app's function was evaluated through a focused-group interview involving the concerned stakeholders (1 PWE, 2 primary caregivers, 1 medical doctor)Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentPatients used a WD, the Sensor	Korea	approach.		the relevant stakeholders via e-
Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentSystem requirements, use caseNacea,Storyboards are created. As aSupplement, personas andJourney maps were alsocreated to represent targetUsersUsersUsersUsersIn phase 3 a series ofPrototypes were created andtested. Users were alsoIn phase 3 a series ofprototypes were created andIn prototypes were created andtested. Users were alsoIn phase 3 a series ofprototypes were created andIn prototypes were created andtested. Users were alsoIn phase 3 a series ofprototypes were created andIn prototypes were created andtested. Users were alsoIn phase 3 a series ofprototypes were created andIn prototypes were created andtested. Users were alsoIn phase 3 a series ofprototypes were created andIn phase 3 a series				mail or messaging app. In Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentSacenarios were employed wherein narratives or storyboards are created. As a supplement, personas and journey maps were also created to represent target users and their experiences. In the second phase, to determine the system requirements, use case scenarios were employed. In phase 3 a series of prototypes were created and tested. Users were also instructed to download and test the SeeSure app. The proposed app's function was evaluated through a focused-group interview involving the concerned stakeholders (1 PWE, 2 primary caregivers, 1 medical doctor)Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentPatients used a WD, the Sensor				phase 2, to determine the
Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentPatients used a WD, the SensorNarea,To report the performance of anDeploymentPatients used a WD, the SensorDeploymentTo report the performance of anDeploymentPatients used a WD, the SensorMacea,To report the performance of anDeploymentPatients used a WD, the Sensor				system requirements, use case
Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentstoryboards are created. As asupplement, personas and journey maps were also created to represent target users and their experiences. In the second phase, to determine the system requirements, use case scenarios were employed. In phase 3 a series of prototypes were created and tested. Users were also instructed to download and test the SeeSure app. The proposed app's function was evaluated through a focused-group interview involving the concerned stakeholders (1 PWE, 2 primary caregivers, 1 medical doctor)Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentPatients used aWD, the Sensor				scenarios were employed
Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentsupplement, personas and journey maps were also created to represent target users and their experiences. In the second phase, to determine the system requirements, use case scenarios were employed. In phase 3 a series of prototypes were created and tested. Users were also instructed to download and test the SeeSure app. The proposed app's function was evaluated through a focused-group interview involving the concerned stakeholders (1 PWE, 2 primary caregivers, 1 medical doctor)Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentPatients used aWD, the Sensor				wherein narratives or Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentJourney maps were also created to represent target users and their experiences. In the second phase, to determine the system requirements, use case scenarios were employed. In phase 3 a series of prototypes were created and tested. Users were also instructed to download and test the SeeSure app. The proposed app's function was evaluated through a focused-group interview involving the concerned stakeholders (1 PWE, 2 primary caregivers, 1 medical doctor)Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentPatients used a WD, the Sensor				storyboards are created. As a Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentcreated to represent target users and their experiences. In the second phase, to determine the system requirements, use case scenarios were employed. In phase 3 a series of prototypes were created and tested. Users were also instructed to download and test the SeeSure app. The proposed app's function was evaluated through a focused-group interview involving the concerned stakeholders (1 PWE, 2 primary caregivers, 1 medical doctor)Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentPatients used a WD, the Sensor				supplement, personas and Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentusers and their experiences. In the second phase, to determine the system requirements, use case scenarios were employed. In phase 3 a series of prototypes were created and tested. Users were also instructed to download and test the SeeSure app. The proposed app's function was evaluated through a focused-group interview involving the concerned stakeholders (1 PWE, 2 primary caregivers, 1 medical doctor)Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentPatients used a WD, the Sensor				journey maps were also Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentthe second phase, to determine the system requirements, use case scenarios were employed. In phase 3 a series of prototypes were created and tested. Users were also instructed to download and test the SeeSure app. The proposed app's function was evaluated through a focused-group interview involving the concerned stakeholders (1 PWE, 2 primary caregivers, 1 medical doctor)Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentPatients used a WD, the Sensor				created to represent target
Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentHe system requirements, use case scenarios were employed. In phase 3 a series of prototypes were created and tested. Users were also instructed to download and test the SeeSure app. The proposed app's function was evaluated through a focused-group interview involving the concerned stakeholders (1 PWE, 2 primary caregivers, 1 medical doctor)Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentPatients used a WD, the Sensor				users and their experiences. In Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentcase scenarios were employed. In phase 3 a series of prototypes were created and tested. Users were also instructed to download and test the SeeSure app. The proposed app's function was evaluated through a focused-group interview involving the concerned stakeholders (1 PWE, 2 primary caregivers, 1 medical doctor)Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentPatients used a WD, the Sensor				the second phase, to determine
Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentIn phase 3 a series of prototypes were created and tested. Users were also instructed to download and test the SeeSure app. The proposed app's function was evaluated through a focused-group interview involving the concerned stakeholders (1 PWE, 2 primary caregivers, 1 medical doctor)Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentPatients used a WD, the Sensor				the system requirements, use
Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentPrototypes were created and prototypes were created and tested. Users were also instructed to download and test the SeeSure app. The proposed app's function was evaluated through a focused-group interview involving the concerned stakeholders (1 PWE, 2 primary caregivers, 1 medical doctor)Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentPatients used a WD, the Sensor				case scenarios were employed.
Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymenttested. Users were also instructed to download and test instructed to download and test the SeeSure app. The proposed app's function was evaluated through a focused-group interview involving the concerned stakeholders (1 PWE, 2 primary caregivers, 1 medical doctor)				In phase 3 a series of Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentinstructed to download and test instructed to download and test the SeeSure app. The proposed app's function was evaluated through a focused-group interview involving the concerned stakeholders (1 PWE, 2 primary caregivers, 1 medical doctor)Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentPatients used a WD, the Sensor				prototypes were created and Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentthe SeeSure app. The proposedapp's function was evaluatedapp's function was evaluatedthrough a focused-groupinterview involving theconcerned stakeholders (1PWE, 2 primary caregivers, 1medical doctor)				tested. Users were also
Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentapp's function was evaluated app's function was evaluated through a focused-group interview involving the concerned stakeholders (1 PWE, 2 primary caregivers, 1 medical doctor)Macea,To report the performance of anDeploymentPatients used a WD, the Sensor				instructed to download and test
Macea,       To report the performance of an       Deployment       Farough a focused-group         through a focused-group       interview involving the         concerned stakeholders (1       PWE, 2 primary caregivers, 1         medical doctor)       medical doctor				the SeeSure app. The proposed
Macea, To report the performance of an Deployment Patients used a WD, the Sensor				app's function was evaluated
Macea,       To report the performance of an       Deployment       concerned stakeholders (1         PWE, 2 primary caregivers, 1       medical doctor)         Macea,       To report the performance of an       Deployment				through a focused-group
Macea,     To report the performance of an     Deployment     PWE, 2 primary caregivers, 1 medical doctor)       Macea,     To report the performance of an     Deployment     Patients used a WD, the Sensor				interview involving the Macea,     To report the performance of an     Deployment     Patients used a WD, the Sensor				concerned stakeholders (1
Macea,     To report the performance of an     Deployment     Patients used a WD, the Sensor				PWE, 2 primary caregivers, 1
				medical doctor)
Bhagubai,   electroencephalogram (EEG) seizure-     Dot (SD), to measure two	Macea,	To report the performance of an	Deployment	Patients used a WD, the Sensor
	Bhagubai,	electroencephalogram (EEG) seizure-		Dot (SD), to measure two

Broux <sup>66</sup> , 2023,	detector algorithm on data obtained		channels of EEG using dry Belgium	with a wearable device (WD) in		electrode patches during prepatients with focal refractory epilepsy		surgical evaluation and at and their experience.		home for up to eight months.
			An automated seizure detection algorithm flagged EEG regions with possible seizures, which we reviewed to evaluate the algorithm's diagnostic yield. In addition, we collected data on usability, side effects and patient satisfaction with an electronic seizure diary application (Helpilepsy®).
van Leeuwen,	To explore the perspectives of those	Concept	Interviews and Surveys
Droger, Thijs	receiving secondary care on nocturnal <sup>67</sup> , 2023,	SDDs and epilepsy in general.
Netherlands
Guerrero-	To assess the end-users acceptability	Deployment	A 16-item electronic survey
Aranda,	of this proposed EEG report format.		was sent to physicians who use Friman-Guillen,			EEG services of a medical González-			diagnosis clinic.
Garrido <sup>68</sup> , 2023, Mexico
Lewis-Fung,	Design and evaluate the feasibility of	Design, Testing &	online and in-person focus
Tchao, Gray <sup>69</sup> ,	VR exposure therapy to treat epilepsy-	Trials	groups and survey 2023, Canada	specific interictal anxiety.
	To explore and validate scenarios that	Concept	The survey included open- and Tchao, Lewis-	provoke epilepsy/seizure-specific (ES)		closed-ended questions
Fung, Gray <sup>70</sup> ,	interictal anxiety		intentionally created to collect 2023, Canada	and provide recommendations that lay		information useful for the foundation for designing VR-ET scenarios to treat this condition in		informing the design of VR-ET

	PwE.		scenarios for PwE
	To evaluate the clinical utility and	Deployment	A survey was developed by the Lennard,	acceptability of Event Labs seizure		clinical team in discussion.
Newman,	monitoring (Nelli) in people with		with experts by experience
McLean <sup>71</sup> ,	intellectual disability and epilepsy.		identifying preemptively what 2023, UK			the key areas of inquiry need to be on the impact of Nelli.