Supplementary Table S2. Summary of tests' results from patients with COVID-19, with data organized by patient ID followed by time since symptoms onset. Only depicted patients for which more than one sample was collected. The last column highlights the samples that were not considered for sensitivity calculation (as they would fall in the same time interval; please see methods section).

Controls (pre-COVID-19)

All COVID-19 Patients

Supplementary Figure S1. Results of the 3 semiquantitative testes were correlated between each other for pre-COVID-19 pandemic controls (top graphs) and for all COVID-19 patients, coloured by range of days since symptoms onset (bottom graphs). Solid lines represent each test's cut-off value. In the case of Euroimmun test, the shadowed grey banner refers to borderline values according to the manufacturer (ratio between 0.8 and 1); samples in this area were considered positive. The scale used (logarithmic) does not allow values equal to zero; in these situations, zero values in the Snibe test were replaced by 0.0005 and a dashed grey line was represented in this value.

Supplementary Figure S2: Representation of the results from each semiquantitative test, stratified by range of days since symptoms onset. Results from IgG are represented on the top panels and from IgA and IgM in the bottom panels. Each dot represents a single sample, and the horizontal solid lines the group's median. Solid thin black lines represent each test's cut-off value. In the case of Euroimmun test, the shadowed grey banner refers to borderline values according to the manufacturer (ratio between 0.8 and 1.1). The scale used (logarithmic) does not allow values equal to zero, in these situations zero values in the Snibe tests were replaced by 0.0005 and a dashed grey line was represented in this value. When the obtained value was above the detection level in the Euroimmun IgA test, a random value of 20 was attributed (a dashed grey line was represented in this value). Groups were compared using a Kruskal-Wallis test, followed by Dunn's pos-hoc tests; significant differences were represented as follows: comparison with <10 days: *:  $p < 0.05$ , **:  $p < 0.01$ , ***:  $p < 0.001$ , and ****:  $p < 0.0001$ ; comparison with 10-15 days: &:  $p < 0.05$ . No other statistical differences are observed. Abbot IgG:  $X^2_{KW}(4, 134) = 23.44, p < 0.0001$ ; Euroimmun IgG:  $X^2_{KW}(4, 159) = 18.79, p = 0.0002$ ; Euroimmun IgA:  $X^2_{KW}(4, 149) = 9.26, p = 0.0260$ ; Snibe IgG:  $X^2_{KW}(4, 145) = 22.49, p < 0.0001$ ; Snibe IgM:  $X^2_{KW}(4, 145) = 18.73, p = 0.0003$ .
